

West Valley bank adds credit officer

West Valley National Bank added Thomas M. Lilly to its senior management team as chief credit officer.

Lilly will be responsible for overseeing credit administration, underwriting, loan operations and risk management for West Valley National Bank.

Lilly is a banking industry veteran, who recently served as senior vice president of Tri City National Bank in Milwaukee.

West Valley National Bank is the first locally owned and operated community bank in the West Valley. The independent bank was established in 2006 by nine local business leaders committed to helping West Valley communities reach their economic potential and enhance the area's overall quality of life.

The bank's lead branch is in Avondale and the loan production office is in Goodyear. For information, visit www.wvnb.net.
